WRITES A POEM AT 83

Verses of Gratitude by Mr. F. C. Winslow.

Celebrated His Restoration to Health and Strength.

Is One of the Oldest and Most Respected Men of Freeport.

Mr. F. C. Winslow of Freeport, Ill., one of the oldest and most respected citizens of that bustling city, celebrates his restoration to health and strength at the advanced age of eighty-three, by writing a poem entitled, "I know I'm old," which has appeared in several western journals. It begins: I know I'm old, for years have gone, Like ocean waves they pass; While manhood's strength and youth-ful morn Their shadows o'er me cast. Yet in my heart a fountain flows Of love and peace and sweet repose, And sympathy still rising high Shines out like stars in evening sky.

It is a poem of gratitude. "Two years ago," says Mr. Winslow in a letter to the Chicago Herald, "I was taken with the grip, and have been confined to my room and bed most of the time since. My whole nervous system became weakened, and with this trouble there were other vital derangements. I had the attendance and counsel of two able medical men and also counsel from several other physicians. And in addition to the above trouble, I have had organic disease, which at times was greatly increased and aggravated. Some two months ago my attention was called by a friend to Paine's celery compound as a valuable medicine for nervous trouble, and while still in bed suffering with the nervous debility, I obtained a bottle and commenced taking it. Before I had used half of it I felt a very sensible relief. I continued using it and now am on my third bottle and see that I have not felt such strength of nerves for years.

"I have had nervous debility for many years, but my nerves are quite vigorous again, and now I am up and visiting my neighbors and attending to my business. The little poem is an expression of my gratitude to Paine's celery compound, for it gives me strength and health when 'death' is at the door."

"I also find that my organic trouble, from which I have suffered for years, is much improved, and for this I give great credit to Paine's celery compound, attended with the divine blessing of my heavenly Father, and would advise all persons suffering from nervous disease to try this remedy."

ABOUT HAPPY HOME CLUBS.

A Word as to Its Objects and Work in the City of Grand Rapids.

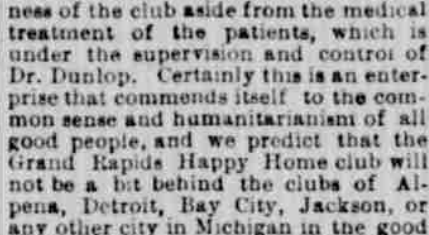

The Happy Home club is an organization, the object of which is to place within the reach of all a cure and remedy for the disease of drunkenness, to promote the moral and intellectual welfare of society by curing all persons afflicted with the liquor habit, thereby restoring happiness to thousands of homes that are now dark and desolate through the misdoings of this dread disease. The patient can be cured at home in Grand Rapids, and can pursue his usual avocation without loss of time or the expense of going to an institute. No one, not even the members of one's own family, need know that one is taking the treatment, and every case is taken on an absolute guarantee of cure. Anyone who is skeptical about the efficacy of the Dunlop cure will be furnished with proof in the persons of well known Grand Rapids parties who have been and are being treated at the Happy Home club rooms in the Putnam block on Monroe street.

All persons are eligible to membership in the club and every member becomes a missionary in the temperance field, inasmuch as the fees for membership and quarterly dues constitute the fund for giving the cure to those who could not otherwise take it, and also for carrying the work of organization into new communities.

The members of each local club elect their own officers and board of trustees and have entire control of all the business of the club aside from the medical treatment of the patients, which is under the supervision and control of Dr. Dunlop. Certainly this is an enterprise that commands itself to the common sense and humanitarianism of all good people, and we predict that the Grand Rapids Happy Home club will not be a bit behind the clubs of Alpena, Detroit, Bay City, Jackson, or any other city in Michigan in the good work.
